Summary of reasons for decision:

This computer moving image file promotes and supports the exploitation of children for sexual purposes, and is therefore deemed objectionable. The clip is a record of a child being sexually abused by an adult man. It is intended for the sexual arousal of people with a prurient interest in children, and it normalises and encourages such a sexual interest in children.

The Classification Office has considered the effects of the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990 on the application of the classification criteria. The classification of this publication interferes with the right to freedom of expression, but this is an outcome that is consistent with Parliament's intention that publications falling under s3(2) of the Films, Videos, and Publications Classification Act 1993 are deemed to be objectionable. The classification is a reasonable limitation on the right to freedom of expression that reflects the concern of a free and democratic society to limit the availability of publications that promote and support the exploitation of children for sexual purposes.
